John Chapman Hand Crafted English Bags . . .

This fantastic selection from Chapman Bags, inspired by the Lake District and surrounding borders, offers some great pieces for what I would consider to be the Urban Gentleman. The business tote in particular is a great alternative to a briefcase as it can be dressed down as well as up. I love the new large City Rucksack mainly for its rich yellow colour and the canvas Pilot Bag is such a smart little weekend bag or overhead baggage piece - depending on how light you travel! The classic hold-all in khaki will go brilliantly with the seasons trend and will fit perfectly with some tailored chinos and a navy blazer. I envisage that look for myself this Spring! With bags produced exclusively in the UK there is the heritage to back up the product and I've recently seen the growing popularity of home-grown labels and Chapman has certainly added to my interest and approval . . .
